MRS. THEO TUDURY AGAIN HEADS COUNTY MARCH OF DIMES

Mrs. Theo Tudury again will serve as Hancock County campaign director for the 1964 March of Dimes. Dr. A. L. Gray, State Health Officer and state chairman, announced today. Many other volunteers will work in the campaign, according to Mrs. Tudury.

Owen Cooper, industrialist of Yazoo City, long-time volunteer for the March of Dimes, will again serve as associate state chairman. In announcing the appointment, the state chairman of the nation's largest voluntary health organization appealed to the people of Hancock County to give generously to the March of Dimes, which now supports medical care for those afflicted with birth defects or arthritis, and finances extensive research into the cause and cure of these crippling conditions.

Mr. Cooper said, "In deciding the amount to give, all of us must also be mindful of the continuing needs of thousands stricken in other years by paralytic polio."

MISS. POWER CO. JOINS OTHERS IN RESEARCH PROGRAM

Mississippi Power Company, Gulfport, has joined 21 other investor-owned utilities to sponsor a new research program aimed at developing an advanced type of nuclear fuel which will reduce the cost of generating electric power from the atom.

A. J. Watson, Jr., president of the company, announced that 22 companies will contribute approximately $2 million to the new program over the next two years. He said that the research and development will be carried out in San Diego, Calif., by General Atomic Division of General Dynamics, which developed the High Temperature, Gas-cooled Reactor (HTGR) for commercial power generation and the graphite-matrix uranium and thorium fuel elements used in the system.

The new fuel program, Mr. Watson indicated, is an extension of the participation of a large segment of the U. S. utility industry in the design and construction of the prototype HTGR atomic power station being built at Peach Bottom, Pa. This project is the first nuclear power station to generate commercial electric power at modern, high efficiency steam conditions of 1,000 degrees (F) and pressure of 1400 pounds per square inch.

The Mississippi Power Company, which has joined with General Atomic in this new program, is keenly interested in any and all technological innovations which hold promise of reducing the generating costs of electric power. Mr. Watson said, "Our purpose in this and other nuclear projects with which the company is associated is to encourage and keep abreast of advanced technology in the nuclear power field, in preparation for the day when truly economic power from the atom can be in widespread use."

HOPES DIM FOR LABOR DISPUTE

It was learned Saturday from the Public Information Office of NASA's Mississippi Test Site Operation in Hancock County, that nothing decisive has resulted from meetings held this week to settle a labor dispute that halted construction on two projects last week.

About 80 workers who were idled by the dispute last Tuesday returned to their jobs Monday, following the negotiating of a return to work agreement by a federal mediator.

Mediation efforts are still being directed by R. B. Taylor, commissioner, New Orleans office of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. Taylor declined to make any statement regarding either the progress of the negotiations or the issues involved in the work stoppage.

Meetings were held Tuesday and Wednesday at Broadwater Beach Hotel by representatives of the contractors and the unions, the Corps of Engineers and NASA. Another meeting was in session today but the information office said this was the December meeting of the Test Site Labor Relations Committee that was organized in October and had no direct bearing on the issues at hand.

The two projects involved are an engineering-laboratory building and a bridge; both are under contract to Warrior Construction Co., Inc. of Houston, Texas.

As of this morning, no new meetings over the issues had been announced. It was not specified in the return to work agreement.

John D. Coleman, of the Building Trades Council of Gulfport, could not be reached for comment.

MSFC test engineers will use the new facilities, costing $1,701,308 to test individual units and systems during development testing.

The Mobile District of the Corps of Engineers awarded the contract and will supervise the construction.

Army engineers have been working for the construction of various roads, railroads, and utilities at the Mississippi Test Operation being built in Hancock County, Mississippi, for the Marshall Space Flight Center. The U. S. Army Engineer District at Mobile is serving as NASA's agent in acquiring real estate and in designing and constructing facilities at the new moon rocket proving ground.

The work now being advertised, which is expected to cost about $1,500,000, includes a main railroad line from the classification yard to the fuel storage areas; a spur railroad line to the warehouse; road extensions to the administrative area and to the industrial water pump station; a temporary road from State Highway 43 across the bascule bridge and back for use during the relocation of the highway; approach slabs, traffic control signals and traffic gates at the bascule bridge; three parking areas in the Saturn V test complex; power supply cable extensions; communication ducts to the Data Handling Center; and additional water supply and sanitary sewer facilities in the support area.

Bids for the contract will be opened on January 24 at the Corps of Engineers district office in Mobile, Alabama. Bidding will be restricted to small business concerns in the interest of as-

Extradition from North Carolina of a suspect in the September theft of $11,750 worth of equipment and household articles from a Hancock County farm has been approved, Asst. District Attorney Clyde Hurlbert said today.

Hurlbert said, "Mississippi officials have been notified by North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford that extradition of Herman W. Daniels, 25, of Clayton, N. C., has been approved."

However, Hurlbert said, Louisiana has denied extradition of Daniel's brother, Edward O. Daniels of New Orleans, another suspect in the case.

Hurlbert declined comment on the refusal of Criminal District Court of New Orleans Parish to grant extradition of Edward Daniels.

Two other suspects, Donald H. Aucoin, 36, of Algiers, La., and Irvin Francis St. Paul, 39, of New Orleans, waived extradition from Louisiana in October and were turned over to custody of Hancock County Sheriff Gerald V. Price Jr.

The four were charged with burglary and grand larceny in the theft of articles from the A. C. Miller farm near Carriere.

A large part of the stolen goods were reported recovered in North Carolina.

Colmer's Views On Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. The ranking Democratic member of the powerful House Rules Committee declared today that "the wave of hysteria which swept the country following President Kennedy's assassination" makes it inadvisable to rush action on a Civil Rights bill.

Rep. William M. Colmer (D-Miss.) termed the Civil Rights proposal "the greatest grab for raw power by the Executive Department that has occurred at any time during the history of our nation."

Appearing on a recorded "Citizens' Council Forum" interview released today to more than 500 television and radio stations throughout the United States, Rep. Colmer warned that "this is no time to act on such an emotionally charged and controversial piece of legislation as the misnamed Civil Rights bill."

"The reprehensible and distasteful assassination of the President is regretted by all the people of this nation - those who subscribed to President Kennedy's political philosophy as well as those who didn't," Colmer stated.

"Yet, in the wave of hysteria which swept the country following President Kennedy's assassination, we are being called upon to rush this Civil Rights bill through Congress as a memorial to President Kennedy."

"Let me put it this way," Colmer explained. "If this Civil Rights bill was good legislation prior to the assassination of the President, then it's good legislation now; but if it was bad legislation before he was assassinated, then it's still bad legislation today. The assassination had no effect whatever on the Civil Rights proposal."

Colmer said that the Rules Committee action before it can be cleared for debate by the House of Representatives. Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) has said his group plans to conduct "orderly hearings" on the bill when Congress returns next month from its Christmas recess.

Balkers of the proposal are attempting to bypass the Rules Committee by securing the signature of 218 House members or a discharge petition; however, they are still far short of their goal.

Rep. Colmer said that "there has been no undue delay" in scheduling Rules Committee action on the Civil Rights proposal.

The cold weather of last week has lured many anglers to the waters up the river and bayous have taken longer to clear up. Speckle trout fishing wasn't too good over the weekend although a few were caught here and there. Those going out said it was a little too cold and the high winds didn't help any.

As soon as the weather moderates, there should be some real good fishing before the New Year. Trolling should improve and bait fishing should get better.

Outside fishing was impossible due to wind velocity. High winds also help to muddy inland waters.

Oystering has improved and local oysters are at their best, plenty salty and just right for those cocktails and to go into dressing for meals during the holidays. They can be purchased at most all seafood places, opened or by the sack for opening. You can't beat oysters on the half shell. According to our local oystermen there should be plenty this year. Tugging for oysters is a sport as well as supplying the family at little cost. Beds out front are yielding many oysters and of the best grade. A pair of tongs and the know how is all that is needed.

Gilly Gilmore spent part of the holidays in New Orleans with relatives. Gilly enjoys fishing and goes at every opportunity.

M. E. Troesch from Madison, Wisconsin has been visiting with his family in the area.

bers in order to achieve so-called "racial balance" in hiring. Unions would be required to pass over white members with seniority rights and give preference to members of the Negro race," Colmer warned.

"Everyone who participates in the whole wide range of Federal programs would be affected. This bill would take away the privileges and rights and liberties of the great majority of the people in order to confer special treatment upon a minority. This is contrary to our concept of a government as laid down by the founders of this nation," Colmer concluded.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI COUNTY OF HANCOCK Notice is hereby given that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County will receive sealed bids to be filed with the Clerk of this Board on or before 10:00 o'clock A. M. Monday, January 6, 1964, for furnishing to Hancock County for the use of District No. Four, One (1) new 36 inch chain saw, approximately 4 to 6 H. P. Gas driven.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Given under my hand and official seal of office, this 3rd day of December, A. D. 1963. (SEAL) C. J. LADNER, CLERK Board of Supervisors, Hancock County, Mississippi 12/12/4times John Davis and his wife have been making good use of the winter months. He said he will not be back home until the summer is over. He said he will be back home until the summer is over.

Good to see Paul and his wife back home. Paul enjoys his traveling and usually gets his share.

Made a trip to the races over the weekend. Saw a number of enthusiasts trying their luck. Some did good and others not so good. Remember the old saying, "you can win a race, but you can't beat the race" usually true!

Still haven't had many reports on hunting squirrels and rabbits. As a reminder, the season on rabbits closes on Dec. 31st and on squirrels on Jan. 31st. According to those traveling in the woods there are plenty rabbits. The bag limit is 5 per day and 10 in possession. Foxes are classed as predatory animals and there is no closed season on foxes. There is no open season on bear.

It is unlawful to hunt or kill game forced out of its natural habitat by high water or fire or while the ground is covered by snow to a depth of 2 or more inches.

This is one law real sportsmen should observe. Give the game a fighting chance.

You can catch bass at night but you must make a quiet noise. Two fishermen were sitting in a boat, shooting plugs against an invisible shoreline in the black of night. One was an oldtimer at this business of night surface fishing, the other a comparative new-comer.

The oldtimer had four bass on his stringer, the younger plunger none. "Why are you getting strikes when I'm not," asked the fishless individual, "I'm using the same color surface lure as you?"

"You're making so much noise with it you are scaring away the bass. Make a quiet noise!" advised the oldtimer.

"What the devil is a quiet noise?" asked the puzzled one. "Well you're chugging that plug so loud that we, this far away, can plainly hear it. That means it sounds like a hippopotamus wallowing around to the bass out there; and bass don't eat such critters. You alarm the bass instead of enticing them."

Enjoyed a gumbo meal at Compretta's Bar last week. Norman is a past master at making gumbo and his friends meet quite often at his place for such meals. A good time is always in store.

can't hear, but the bass can. Nudge your rod tip gently and that surface plug is making plenty of commotion, sounding to a bass like a big moth, bat, wounded minnow, frog, baby, muskrat, or any number of small creatures.

"Entice the bass, and you get a strike. Scare it, and you'll get a good letting alone," wound up the oldtimer.

"Hmmm," the fishless one said eloquently. So he started making a quiet noise and started catching bass.

Moral, if you want to catch really big bass while night fishing, make a quiet noise.

Sorry to hear that Sam Meyers has been a little under the weather. Sam is strictly a bait fisherman and goes after perch and bass, getting good results. He says boats are strictly uptown and prefers walking the bank. A perch pole is all that is needed according to him.

SOUTHERN BELL PLANS EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS IN 1964

Southern Bell Telephone Company announced today that it plans to spend approximately $11.7 million for new facilities in Mississippi in 1964 - more than in any previous year of its history.

Vice President C. L. Lott of Mississippi said the 1964 construction of facilities is expected to top those of 1963, the previous high year, by approximately $5 million.

"Our 1964 plans to improve and expand our service reflect the continuing fast pace of progress in Mississippi and the confidence we have in the future," Mr. Lott said.

For example, we expect to spend more for facilities in 1964 than we have invested in our telephone plant in the state in 1946 after more than 48 years of telephone operations.

HEAVY IMPACT ON STATE'S GROWTH

"Through our large construction program and in other ways, we contribute to and we are pleased to share in Mississippi's economic growth," said Mr. Lott.

As 1963 nears an end, Southern Bell's total plant investment in serving Mississippi stands at about $215 million. Its payroll in the state will total about $23.5 million for 1963, and its total taxes applicable to Mississippi operations about $22 million a year. Its purchases from businesses and manufacturers in the state represent

HOW THEY FLY...

Six New Years — count them! Six sets of good resolutions — remember them? And now another year coming up all too quickly... how they seem to rush by!

As always, the beginning of another year is a good time to consider how much happier and better life is when God is in it. And just as important is the resolution to share this knowledge with others.

True, any Sunday can be a new beginning. But strengthened by past experience, make this year a truly memorable one. Start taking your family to church regularly. Claim your birthright of peace and forgiveness in sincere worship.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Remember?

NEW YORK - Man makes his memories, and his memories makes the man.

The shorter the distance there is left to go, the more recollections there are of the journey already traveled.

You've been on quite a trip yourself if you can look back and remember when—

A girl could be 21 and unmarried and still not worry about being called a spinster.

Ballroom dancing was a rhythmic and graceful partnership, instead of the individual contortions of two people seized simultaneously with fits.

People never went on a vacation until they had saved up the money to pay for it.

What was inside a Christmas package was more important than the wrapping.

Half the small kids in America wanted to grow up and be street car motormen. Today most of them have never seen a trolley.

When a woman washed her hair, it took her the rest of the day, and the help of a strong sun to dry it.

Greater love had no husband than he who helped lace up his stout wife in a whalebone corset.

The only time many people stayed up after midnight was on Dec. 31 - and they yawned all the next day.

A saloon's reputation depended on the variety and quantity of its free lunch.

Anyone who discussed religion was expected at least to have read the Bible all the way through, and be able to cite chapter and verse.

If you gave a girl more than a $2 box of candy, it was tantamount to a proposal of marriage, else why would you spend all that money on her?

It was part of growing up to be given a $5 gold piece by a favorite uncle or aunt.

When you saw a boy with a crew cut, you knew his mother must have found bugs in his hair, and had taken the easy way of getting rid of them.

Everyone was sure progress would solve all of mankind's woes. Those were the days!

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The W. M. U. and Ladies Sunday School Class of the Waveland Baptist Church held their Christmas party on Friday evening, Dec. 13, with a turkey dinner.

Gifts were given out after the dinner and a very good time was had by all.

Almost every order of modern steel must be carefully "custom made" to meet the specific needs of each fabricator.

There are some 6,000 American companies which maintain industrial research laboratories, with an annual expenditure estimated at two and a half billion dollars.

In order to give our employees a well-earned vacation, our Company will close at 12:00 noon on December 24, 1963, and remain closed until 8:00 A. M. Thursday, January 2, 1964.

We will appreciate our customers planning ahead on their requirements so as not to be inconvenienced by our closing.

We extend the Season's Greetings to all.
